

Anna Griffiths – born 2008

Hard working professional actor and singer with experience of theatre, film, commercial client work and voiceover. Mature and confident on set. I am great at taking direction, friendly, 100% reliable, easy to work with and have been complimented by directors on my professionalism.

I have done a lot of voiceover work during lockdown, recorded in my home studio setup. I have very clear diction and a neutral English accent. I have presented educational videos for children learning English as a second language and worked on US based podcasts.

I love singing and have been training professionally since I was seven. I love performing in front of an audience.

I have a drama coach who I work with regularly to develop my skills.
